ACTIVITY LEVEL

Easy to Moderate

Embark on an awe-inspiring 8-day expedition into the remarkable wonders of Southeast Alaska.

Aboard the 100-guest National Geographic Quest, you'll sail through fast-moving channels where whales return to feed year after year, and bears, sea lions and eagles can be spotted in their natural habitat. Get a closer view of curious wildlife among electric blue icebergs on a cruise by Zodiac. And spend a full day in Glacier Bay National Park. You'll have exclusive access to NPCA staff experts who will provide an inside look at NPCA's on-going work in Alaska, including two recent victories over destructive mining development in the headwaters of Bristol Bay and in Gates of the Arctic National Park and Preserve.

Make the expedition as active as you choose, joining a variety of knowledgeable naturalists each day to gain a broad perspective on the significance of this magnificent region. Go for a hike in the wild remote areas of Tongass National Forest by special permit, kayak into secluded inlets and discover Alaska's seldom-seen, vibrant marine life as revealed by our undersea specialist. Your great adventure among the mist-shrouded fjords and tidewater glaciers is calling.

Sitka, AK

ITINERARY

DAY 1 AUGUST 31: Arrivals to Sitka

1 Arrive by 2:00 p.m. in Sitka, Alaska, situated on the western coast of Baranof Island and overlooking the Pacific Ocean. A member of the Lindblad Expeditions team will transfer guests to the National Geographic Quest in time for cocktails and an introduction of the vessel staff and crew.

Please note: NPCA encourages you to arrive a day early for an optional group trip to Sitka National Historical Park on the morning of August 30th. (D)

DAY 2 SEPTEMBER 1: Southeast Alaska's Islands, Bays and Fjords

2 Today, nature is our guide as we set forth to view wildlife with the flexibility to take advantage of weather conditions. We may stop at an isolated beach to beachcomb, explore tide pools and hike stunning forest trails. We'll keep an eye out for old bear tracks worn into the soil as you move from forest to meadow. Sightings of bald eagles are common. If conditions permit, we will do some kayaking, always watching for marine and terrestrial life. (B, L, D)

DAY 3 SEPTEMBER 2: Icy Strait and the Inian Islands

3 We'll explore among the Inian Islands, where an abundance of Steller sea lions and sea otters reside, and search for marine mammals in the nutrient-rich waters of Icy Strait. Then we'll choose the perfect hiking spot around Chichagof Island, where sightings of bald eagles are common. (B, L, D)

DAY 4 SEPTEMBER 3 : Glacier Bay National Park

4 We'll spend the entire day amid the coves, fjords, tide-water glaciers and majestic mountains of Glacier Bay National Park. We'll witness glaciers that end abruptly at the water's edge and observe them calving, a process during which chunks of ice break off from a glacier's edge, often with thunderous sound. Mountain goats scale the peaks and harbor seals, Steller sea lions and puffins navigate near-shore waters. To close out today's adventure, we'll enjoy a visit to Tidal Inlet where brown bears often lumber up the hill-sides. (B, L, D)

DAY 5 SEPTEMBER 4: Frederick Sound and Chatham Strait

5 These waters are prime areas for both orca and humpback whales. With luck, we may observe their fascinating behavior — breaching, tail-slapping and variations on feeding — as we fill the deck and listen to the play-by-play from our expert naturalists. We will explore spectacular bays and inlets, following bear trails and salmon streams. Once ashore, we can walk along a quiet forest trail. The still waters are excellent for kayaking, offering another option for up-close exploration. (B, L, D)

Humpback Whale, Juneau, AK

DAY 6 SEPTEMBER 5: Petersburg

6 We visit the small Alaska fishing town of Petersburg on Mitkof Island today, which still retains much of its Norwegian heritage. We'll explore a unique Southeast Alaska ecosystem, the muskeg, with stunted trees and carnivorous plants. There is an opportunity to stretch our legs with an optional bike ride around town. For dinner, we will enjoy a crab feast. (B, L, D)

DAY 7 SEPTEMBER 6: Tracy Arm-Fords Terror Wilderness

7 We'll start the day on a voyage into Tracy or Endicott Arm, both spectacular fjords, with waterfalls cascading from glacially carved walls. We'll see the soaring Dawes or South Sawyer Glacier up close and take a cruise in a Zodiac for an unbeatable view among sculpted icebergs. Keep an eye out for harbor seals, harbor porpoises and arctic terns. (B, L, D)

DAY 8 SEPTEMBER 7: Juneau, Alaska / Disembark

8 After breakfast we disembark at Juneau. Take time to visit the local shops before exploring the newly constructed Alaska State Museum, with its sprawling collection of natural history and cultural artifacts. Transfer to the airport for connecting flights home. (B)

$500 off for kids under 18: National Geographic Global Explorers, created in conjunction with National Geographic Education, is a unique, hands-on program that teaches kids and teens 18 and under how to explore the natural world like scientists. Kids and teens choose fun activities, from earning a Zodiac “driver’s license” to recording wildlife sightings in their Field Notebook. Each learning opportunity is designed to help them see and do more.

Lindblad Expeditions’ certified field educators at the helm of the National Geographic Global Explorers program are experts at interpreting the fascinating stories of species and their habitats so kids and teens can return home inspired to protect the planet. Educators are specifically trained to lead invigorating activities and to teach about specific plant and animal features like the scales on a fish or a giant coral head. Kids are also given creative flexibility to record their observations in their Field Notebook and tell stories about what they see and do through photos, videos, music and drawings. In this program, mentors help drive them to lead the next generation of explorers.
